How important is comfort and warmth in your home? At Cork Concepts we know you will love the benefits of a cork floor. With cork you don't sacrifice your warmth and comfort to have a luxury floor.

Imagine waking up and placing your feet onto freezing tiles. With cork, even a naked baby can spend hours on the floor because cork retains warmth. Your home will be safe because cork is non allergenic and is easily cleaned with only hot water. And with more Kiwi's realizing our winters are damp and our houses are cold, it makes sense to have flooring that doubles as a warming material for the home.

The resilience which allows cork to fit into any sized wine bottle neck also gives a soft foot fall on the floor and a cushioned surface for plates and glasses to fall onto. This helps tired feet and aching bones while the acoustic properties of cork soundproof between apartments and rooms and reduces the clatter of shoes.

Cork flooring comes in many colours and sizes. At Cork Concepts we custom make your floor especially for you with our quality pledge ensuring a high standard of excellence. Choose from our range of 15 colours or choose from the Resene paint range and we will match it for you.

Additionally Cork Concepts stocks Acoustic Cork, a popular underlay sold in 915 x 610 sheets. This acts as an excellent non-toxic insulation material.

Wood flooring gets scratched, ceramics crack and carpets stain while cork comes up trumps being eco-chic, soft and warm. This is the 'Louis Vutton of flooring', direct from the Mediterranean.

The Cork Concepts Quality Pledge

Each cork tile is of the highest quality and this is pledged to all of our customers through a rigorous quality assurance system that ensures our tiles are assessed at each stage of their journey from the sustainable cork forests of Portugal to your floor.
